

Baby Hugs Bear™ in The Trouble Bubble

Baby Hugs was having the best visit with Share Bear. First they had played house, then they blew bubbles. Share Bear made Baby Hugs' favorite soup for lunch and even let her have two cookies for dessert.
After lunch, Share read Hugs her favorite story – Goldibear and the Three Girls.
But then it was time for a nap.

*“Rest quietly,
sweetie,”
Share Bear said,
“and no bouncing
on the bed,
you might fall!”*

Baby Hugs Bear closed her eyes and tried to nap,
but she just wasn't sleepy.
She tried to rest quietly but the more she lay still,
the more she just wanted to move around.

She sat up, then let herself
fall back onto the bed.

When she landed, she bounced a bit.
"That was fun!" she thought.

Baby Hugs stood up on the bed.
She jumped up a little bit
and bounced off the bed.
“I like this,” she said.

Then she hopped...

...and soon she forgot all about
what Share Bear
had told her
as she bounced
high up in the air each time.

and she flopped...

Faster and faster
and higher and higher
she bounced.
She giggled with glee.
All at once
she tumbled
too close to the bedside table.

“OW!!”

She hit her paw on something and then there was the sound of breaking glass.
She crawled to the edge of the bed
and looked down at the floor.

WHAM!

CRASH!

“OH NO!”

Baby Hugs
thought...

“I broke
Share Bear’s
favorite vase.”

"She will be so angry!
Hadn't she told me
not to jump on the bed?"

"I'm in BIG trouble!"
Baby Hugs sobbed,
as tears came to her eyes.
"What will I tell Share Bear?"

Then Baby Hugs
had an idea.
“I’ll tell her a story
about how the vase
got knocked over,”
she thought.

She tried hard to think of a story.
“I could say that some star buddies playing tag
flew through the window
and knocked the vase over.”

But Baby Hugs Bear
thought about how much Share Bear cared about her,
and how much
she loved Share.

"I can't tell
Share Bear
a fib,"
said Baby Hugs.

She went to Share Bear
and told her everything that had really happened.

Share Bear was a little upset
about her vase, but then she surprised Baby Hugs. "When you do something wrong," Share began, "it can become a trouble bubble
– it gets Bigger and BIGGER and BIGGER
if you fib or try to hide it."

“You found the best way to handle a trouble bubble—
POP IT!
—by telling the truth!”

Shore gave Baby Hugs
a big hug.

Baby Hugs Bear helped Share clean up the broken vase, and then took a half-hour nap.
But when naptime was over they turned it back into a day FULL of FUN.

As Share pushed
Baby Hugs high
on a swing,
she asked,
“See any trouble bubbles
up there?”

My Hugs Bear looked into the bright, sunny sky and replied,

“Nope!
No trouble
bubbles
anywhere!”

Be sure to look for Baby Tugs Bear™
and his special book,

Written by David Folger

Illustrated by Dave Kreis

Designed by Sharon Foldi

Find more fun at www.care-bears.com

Care Bears™

©2004 Those Characters From Cleveland, Inc.
Used under license by Play Along (Hong Kong) Ltd.

AMERICAN GREETINGS

American Greetings and Rose logo is a trademark of AGC, Inc.

Printed in China